you me to

Heidi - I hope you can write your name right under your name. It's hard to say what I want to say but you are truly my best friend. You helped me when Dinner and Jean decided to dump me and were there when Danny and Ron wanted to dissolve my mind.
It seems that you are always there to cheer me up again and I hope you will help me in the future.

We had some truly fun times at my great parties and during football season. It seems that we both have change this year in 76 but but it was for the best we both came more aware of reality. I know was fun this year even though our world didn't seem as good as if should have. Hopefully (sorry for the spelling) we will find something better to go out with this summer.
You are going to be so busy next year being president of Regismond but I hope you have time for me.
I should write so much but I am going to see you next year and maybe in May now. And then during the summer too. Lake Care and I wish your father all the luck in the world with the election.

Love Ya Always

I love to say that you know Boy I'm glad you were in smoke signal we had so much fun I think we will make a great team I hope we even have a fantastic and warm person you and Charles practically saved my life at Sadie I think Ralph would really have been loved so many thanks hope love will come your way from a certain person See ya around good for him

God Bless you,
Piper

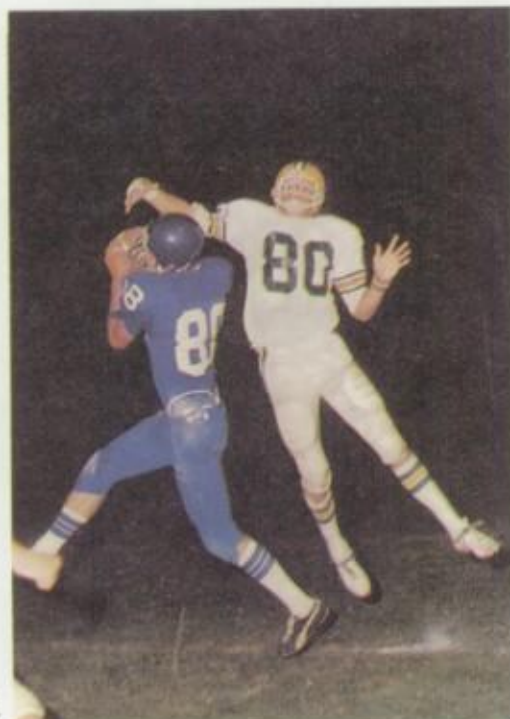

Heidi -

I have known you for a very long time and you have always been very nice. I hope you do well again in tennis next year. Good luck and I'll see you again next year.

It's been interesting in German II this year. I hope you'll be

Heidi,
 you are so nice, hope everything goes very smoothly next yr.
 your senior year is what you make it! One thing for sure you guys are gonna have a super year! Its a shame
 Mr. Bullock's such a uck!
 you could have really helped him out!
 oh heck with him!
 Ha!

776-1976, two hundred years of American hopes, heartbreaks, and celebrations! Throughout the land of the free, the birthyear of the United States is celebrated by essay contests, the Freedom Train, festivals, and the sudden overuse of red, white, and blue on everything from matchbooks to mugs, tennies to teeshirts.

At the home of the Braves, students celebrate the bicentennial in their own way. Whether it's by getting together with friends, passing a test, or just making it through another school day, each person plays a special role not only in the land of the free, but in the Home of the Brave.

1. Esther Nix and friends enjoy an unhurried moment during lunch. 2. "You can't have it," says Jerry Tolstad to a Santa Barbara opponent. 3. George Polly and George Renfro display their spirit of '76. 4. A sunset over Lompoc. 5. Kim Jeter and Lisa Michels celebrate another point. 6. A local painted fireplug. 7. "You're jivin'," laughs Malcolm Henson. 8. "Miss Malloy, I think I got it," giggles Rosie Stewart in p.e.

Heidi-
you, clay, and Rhonda were alot of fun to have as mangars this year and I hope you can do it next year.
Even though we joke around alot,
we really do appreciate what you guys did.
I hope you had fun too. I know you will do well in what ever you do. Best of luck and have fun over the Summer.

Mission La Purisima, the Alma Mater, Senior Portraits, and Homecoming are among the many traditions that make our town and school complete. Though these traditions may mean many different things to many different people, they all provide a common experience for all of us to share. Whether it is cheering your very loudest during class yells, or being an active part of our nations bicentennial celebration, we are always a part of traditions.

1. "Crow" Garcia manages to ruin the cheer and song leaders work of art.
2. George Lopez and friends take time to read as well as look at, the La Purisima's.
3. Some seniors show they have real class when posing for senior portraits, as Cindy Lukk proves.
4. The traditional singing of the Alma Mater concludes one of the few assemblies during this year.

YOU mean I waited 10 minutes in this stupid lunch line and there's no more strawberry koo-koo's left?" "If you throw one more piece of clay at me I'm going to uncoil your coil pot."

Common frustrations such as these and more intense ones, like having your bike ripped off or being the suspected leader of a food fight, are met by students everyday.

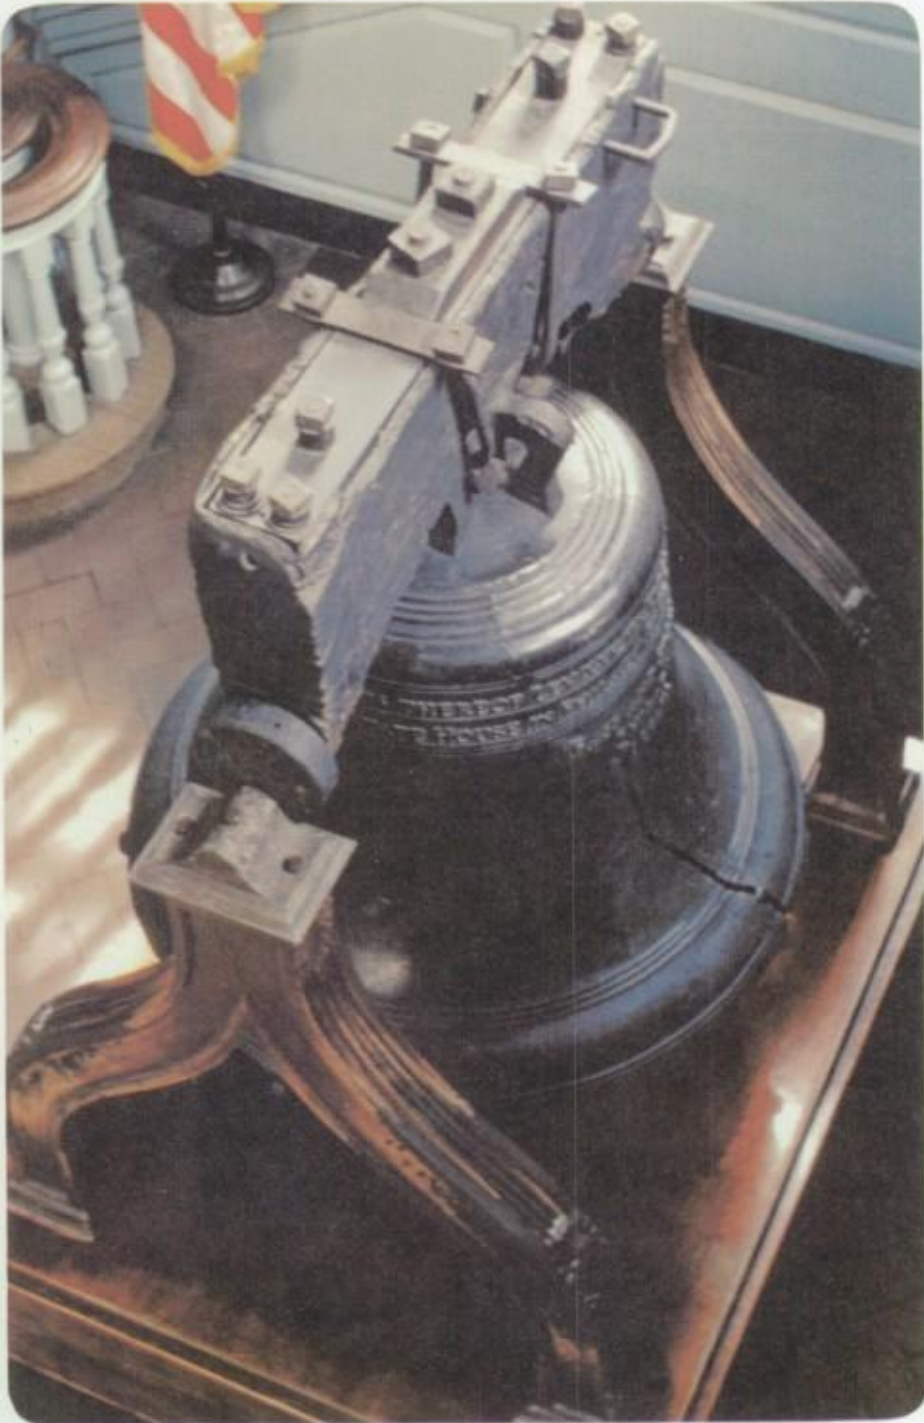

Frustrating things happen to us all through our lives, and we each must be able to adjust to them in our own unique style and way.

REEDOM is our way of life; it will always be a part of the American People. We are free to express ourselves through our dress, our choice of friends, and through our many activities. We all have good reason to remember and thank the great men that fought and died to insure the safety and freedom of these United States. This year we celebrate the 200th anniversary of our nation's fight for freedom.

INSIDE of each of us is a special person. Partial to our own way of thinking, but wondering if our beliefs are solid, we are always wishing to be able to view life through someone else's eyes without realizing that their life probably has nothing more to offer us than our own life.

An idea or dream has always been the forerunner of accomplishment. Long before the United States was founded, men like Franklin, Jefferson and Paine had visions of independence. They chose to fulfill their beliefs just as we have the option to follow our own inner visions.

1. Anticipating the evening to follow, Debbie Otero and Glenn Neal combine their creativity. 2. "The hardest part of the game is getting psyched," thinks Lillian Jackson. 3. Richard Calkins discovers that high school isn't all that it's cracked up to be. 4. Lorrie Froehlich knows it's either the ball or her. 5. "Hey Masha!" 6. Maureen Lester struggles through the mountains of cards at the Brave Trek.

CHOOOL is so boring. I wish there were some changes." Surprisingly enough, changes did occur at Lompoc High. Choosing classes, teachers and periods, new girls sports, girls competing against boys in water polo, and a new football coach were just some of the changes that occurred this year.

In the times before our country declared independence, people weren't sure if they should change to a life they thought would be better, or if they should stay with their old ways. We all change at one time or another but the most important changes come in high school.

1. The Belluz's house is one of the oldest houses still standing. 2. "Keep up the good work!" says Shelley Hamer. 3. Sophomores Carmela Martinez, Shelly Pearson and Terrie White watch in wonder. 4. Rallies were a change for the cheer and songleaders as well as for the students. 5. Horsing around at an assembly. 6. A care-free day in the life of the seniors. 7. and 8. This year was so fun managing the boys. I can easily say that I have indeed benefitted from knowing Dan & Ron. (I know now who not to go out with.)

Smoke Signal just wouldn't have been as great without Happy Heidi. You & that strange laugh.

You know, I figured I wouldn't get sentimental about the end of my high school career, but I did a little. Only two writings in my yearbook hit me, though. I cried when I read Jim's, and I cried when I read yours.

Magic

It was a night of magic for Debbie Otero who was crowned the 1975-76 Homecoming Queen. Debbie was nominated by the Class of '78 and chosen by the student body. The court included Angie Barnacastle nominated by the Cheerleaders, Carmen Lietz nominated by the Class of '77, Fredericka Wilke nominated by the Lettermen's Club, and Tammy Yuhas nominated by the Songleaders.

"Bum bum ba da dum . . ." In came the Butt sisters to show the football team how to kick bootie against Cabrillo. Meanwhile, Mr. Spruill demonstrated his flagtwirling ability and Mr. Yearbook displayed his fine looking legs for everyone to admire.

The Lettergirls' also got into the act. Topping off their good looks with beanies and sombreros, they entertained the student body with an exercise and dance routine.

The assemblies were never dull as detectives Van Cannon, Coe-Lumbo, JaKojak, and Petro-shelley solved the puzzling crime of "The Mystery of the Canned Editor."

Contests were held between classes. (Ever try running across the gym floor with a tennis ball between your legs?) There was variety in the assemblies, planned by Kathy Hart and George Renfroe.

Rock On

Saturday night is the night to get a little action at Lompoc High. The dim lit cafeteria and electric sounds are provided for by the sponsoring club. Smiling faces complete the scene as everyone has a good time with friends twisting the night away. You can tell by the crowds that attend, a dance is one of the Braves' favorite year-around activities.

1. Kevin Pampena gets stoked on his guitar. The good times that people have at a dance are clearly expressed on the faces of: 2. Terry Oakes 3. Rick Beltran 4. Debbie Stevenson 5. Mike Ellison 6. Shelley Hamer 7. Angie Barnacastle.

Rays

Gamma rays really hit the Lompoc drama department in '76 as Paul Zindel's play "The effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-moon Marigolds" was performed by two casts. The show, first seen in October portrayed two sisters trying to survive a mother who feels life is cheating her. Carla Bigrigg and Diane Ellis acted as Beatrice, the mother; Susan and Brenda Register were daughters in one cast, Anva Belle and Diana Frelot in the other.

Another big event was the drama festival in December; many Lompocians competed. "Arsenic and Old Lace" ran in March.

It's cornflakes and an argument for breakfast for mother and daughter Anva Belle and Diane Ellis.

JOKERS

No matter how hectic a day may be, everyone seems to find time to slip away for awhile to be themselves by goofing off. Whether it's scribbling quaint little sayings on the patio tables, playing t.v. tag at lunchtime, or just "being cool" in the empty locker section, we're all out to have a good time while taking a break from the same old drab routine.

"Oh, no you guys, I think it's another squirt gun camera!" warns horrified Johnny Ríos to his brother Charles, Mike Boykins, Ron Toomey, Ron Hernandez and Paul Feeley. 3. "How'd I ever get wrapped up in this mess?" says Coach Ellison to Kim Heard. 4. Carol Nelson entertains Cristi Gibbs and Susan Preece with some tennis ball tricks during P.E. 5. "Face it, I'm cute!" says Anna Domingos while Tito Rodriguez, Steve Domingos and Paul Taporco snicker.

Task

"Let's do it over again" was a familiar motto known to the many dedicated players on campus. Students who participated in drama, sports, forensics, music, or a support group always strived for a winning performance. Time of day did not matter. Varsity water polo practiced as early as 6:30 a.m., and Madrigals sang as late as 9 p.m. Whether tired or plumb worn out, they practiced until they were satisfied.

Just one long Blue band of talent

"He yells a lot, but he's really OK." That phrase was heard again and again by freshmen before they truly believed it as the Marching Braves started another season of music, practice, fun and Mr. Weakley.

The 62 Marchers, dressed up in their bi-centennial red, white and blue and led by drum major Kim Jeter traveled to Hawthorne for a parade, as well as dazzling the home crowds with music at the football games.

Although they're known as a Marching Band, these musicians did more than just march. They sold candy door-to-door and at the flea market. They also played at the pep assemblies and challenged the Cabrillo band to the annual friendly football game.

Practice, performance, perfection

"Please, not me!" "I'm next, I know I'm next." "I don't want to try out, I'm so nervous I could die!" "You should've heard me, it was so . . . so . . . so rotten." Audition after audition, it never seemed to end. Those music tests didn't help time fly, either. However, all the practices, nasty stares and verbal abuse paid off with high hopes of attending regional competition again. Work was the keynote of band and orchestra.

1. "On pitch, on pitch," thinks Roxanne Moll. 2. Mr. Mussard draws it out. 3. Bass-bone man Wendell Kelley sips up a little air. 4. Dan McCabe makes his entry at the Christmas concert. 5. Scott Lindsey and Joe Wallace know that music is concentration. 6. Freshman choir knows the performance is only as successful as the practice. 7. "Ya know, I bet I read more notes on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays than I do words." Such is the life of a true musician like those in the Dance band. Lunch time rehearsals and playing dances all over town to raise money kept these 18 music makers plenty busy. A jazz festival in Los Angeles, the first attended by a group of this type from Lompoc high, surrounded by a four day trip, climaxed a year full of car washes and tunes from the fabulous '40s.

Listen and blend, the two main rules of a voice ensemble, kept flashing in the minds of the freshman choir members as they sang themselves to the Anaheim music festival. Selling suckers and experiencing many different types of music made Mr. Mussard's youngest group a memorable one for every one of its 47 harmonizers.

Instrumental or vocal, the music is local

Concert choir suffers from rehearsmania

This years Concert Choir spent many long hours in rehearsals. They gave up lunch hour for practice, dates for practice, and going to the beach for practice. Several of the dedicated members even gave up a class or two, not necessarily for practice. Topping off this was their sucker sales. Funny how everyone ended up with the blue suckers left after their sales were over.

"Bumping is the latest"

"Bumping boogie is the greatest." "Shhh - the last time we decorated this guy's house his dog nearly amputated my leg." "All right, who ripped-off the dish of paint I just mixed?" Together at summer camp the cheerleaders and songleaders learned new cheers and routines along with spirit-evoking chants and rally ideas. Rallies provided a noontime break.

Cheerleaders gain weight and decorate

'Twas the night before Cabrillo and all through the land, not a creature was stirring, not even the band. The team was nestled all snug in their beds, while visions of victory danced in their heads. Then out on the lawn there arose such a clatter, the shade was thrown open to see the matter. The moon, on the crest of the newly hung signs, gave a lustre of game day to objects below. Then what to wondering eyes should appear, but a miniature station wagon and six tiny cheerleaders. The little ol' driver, so lively and quick, was known in a minute to be the head chick. She thought she might lose control of the gang, she shouted and called them by name. "Come, Traci; hurry, Debbie; on, Fred and on, Tammy; split, Lori, before I leave you right here!" yelled big momma, Angie.

Only four girls but at least a million twirls

Red, white and blue uniforms, with flags to match - this year's flagtwirlers were right in step with the bicentennial celebration. Thousands of hours of dedicated practice and diligent effort led to great performances. Bake sales, a booth at the Flower festival, and running the popcorn machine at lunch were a few of the ways they raised money to keep us with the expenses of new flags and competitions. Having only four girls this year, instead of six, the girls gained a great closeness. FACTS: Sponsor, Mrs. Porr; Capt., Piper Warrick; camp in August; attended spring competition; Christmas, Flower festival parades.

Lettermen go quietly with new masters

"I'll give anything for that stud!" was heard at the Lettermen club's successful slave day as many high bidders got a slave for a day, and the club got funds to carry out their activities for the year. The Lettermen also sponsored the annual Harlem Clowns game along with working three concession stands and crowd control at all basketball and wrestling events. With the money they earned, the Lettermen went to a Lakers basketball game and bought athletic equipment for the school's benefit.

FFA lets the good times roll

"Move it klutz!" "Get out of my way!" "Oh my God!" These were among the panic stricken cries heard at the FFA's skating party. Besides skating into each other, Lompoc's chapter of the Future Farmers of America also hosted the junior rodeo at La Salle canyon and Sadie Hawkins dance.

The FFA once again proved to be one of the most popular clubs on campus. Led by president Joey Belluz, under the guidance of sponsors Mr. Morgan and Mr. Whitefield, the FFA enjoyed a very successful year.

Junior rodeo awards were hard fought

A new idea, a movie and a dance in the same night, was turned out by this year's Student Body Officers and Commissioners. Apart from selling SB cards and reading the daily bulletin, they staged a Bicentennial week and an active Cabrillo week, complete with tug-o'-war. Tim Binning took charge of the school as SB pres. Next were Masha Calloway, v.-pres.; George Polly, treasurer; and Janet Jeffers, secretary. Most of the assemblies were planned by Kathy Hart and George Renfroe while activities were handled by Cristi Gibbs and Tom Hicks. The publicity chores were taken care of by Donna Hannah and Debbie Langenfield.

Dull, but definitely not dumb

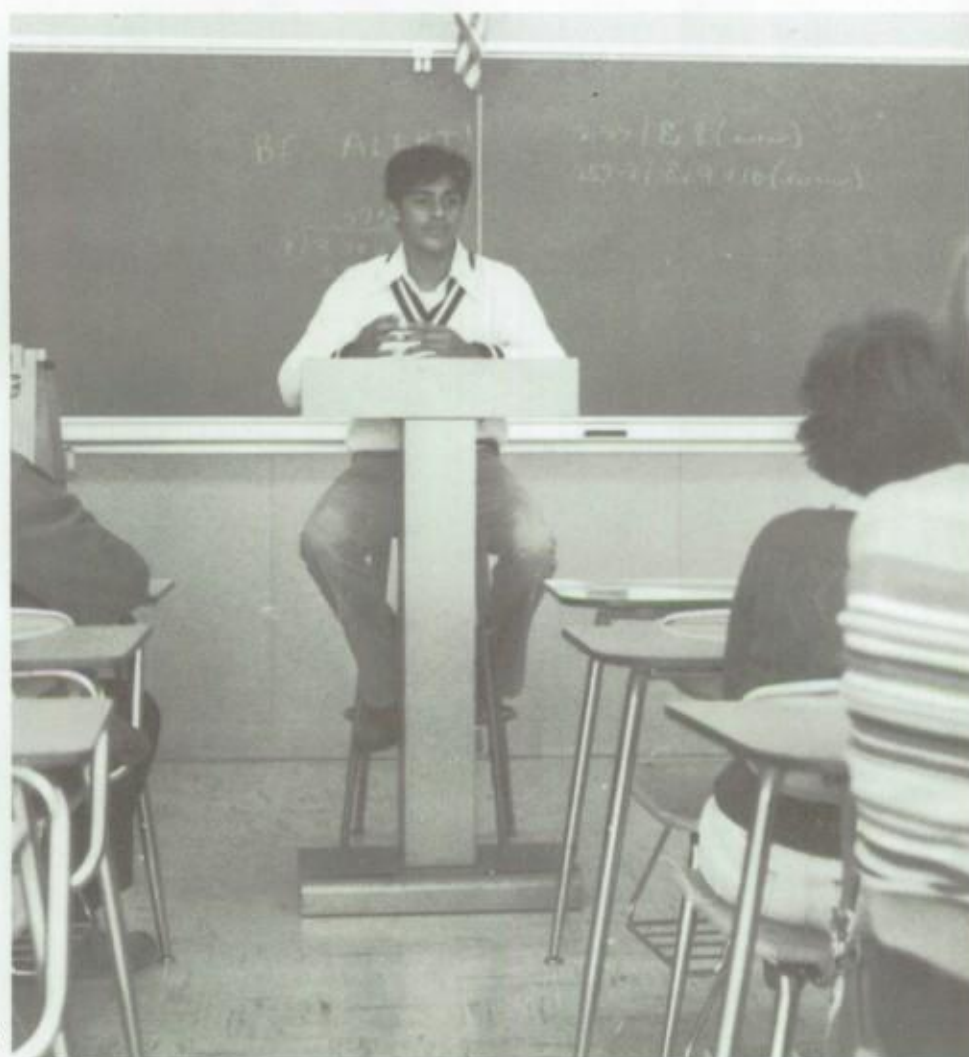

Want a little pizzazz in your life? How about some footstompin' fun? Well, you can't get either at a noon meeting of CSF. These gatherings were a bit on the boring side, but the dullness was a small price to pay for the activities planned at them.

For instance, no other club sponsored "enrichment" trips to UCLA and USC a week apart. They also had a special night where rookie brains and life members were recognized and honored. More active smarties worked the concession stand at basketball games and wrestling matches to raise money to spend on worthy projects.

Disneyland, spaghetti and tobogganing

Whether it be tobogganing down Mt. Abel's slopes, chasing Mickey Mouse around Disneyland, or serving up spaghetti before the Lompoc-Cabrillo football game, this year's AFS club always seemed to find an activity to keep it busy. A new event this year was an interschool retreat at the El Chorro Ranch near San Luis Obispo. This year's club was led by Bob Hernandez, president and Mr. William Denton, the sponsor.

Fried chicken and skipping typewriters

On a Saturday while everyone was at the beach or home in bed, we sat in P-3. Our task was to write copy about clubs we knew nearly nothing about, use our great sense of humor while writing captions and to crop pictures without leaving any of anybody's body out. With this in mind, and with the help of a food-filled table and a loud stereo, the staff tried their best to make a very superb 1976 yearbook.

HERE WE GO

Coming back after two season-opening losses, the Braves got rolling by shutting out both Dos Pueblos and Santa Barbara in the last two pre-league games. Despite the loss of George Polly, Larry Marshall and Steve Miliate because of injuries, the Braves went into league anticipating a long hard road to the league title. The team, along with new Coach Mike Warren, was prepared to take on this challenge.

SHORT

The '76 Braves came up one comeback short on the C I F journey. After staging an unbelievable comeback to beat Cresenta Valley 21-20, the Braves ended it all by losing to Damien. The Braves ended with a 7-4 record. Lompoc placed 6 men on the All-League team. They were Rick Walker, Calvin Boler, Dwight Kirkland, Tim Binning, Bill Lundy, and Richard Aguilar, the Northern League's Co-Outstanding Def. Lineman.

FUTURE

STUDS

Cabrillo was beaten by the Freshman and Junior Varsity teams, as well as by Varsity, to make Lompoc's perfect week. The J.V.'s did an exceptional job against the more experienced Cabrillo J.V. team, made up mostly of juniors. The J.V. team appeared shaky at the beginning of the season but managed to claim second place in league. The Freshman team was 5-0, making them the league champs. Future varsity teams look promising.

Another Lompoc running dynasty in the making? After winning league with an undefeated 5-0 record, the Braves made it to the CIF semi-finals. Lompoc may be back to the championship days as 5 of the 7 varsity runners will return, including "The Big 4" Bobby Nunez, Scott Coe, J. J. Holoubek and Mike Bagwell. With a lot of youth, and a lot of work, the league crown may just be the starting point for the Braves.

FISH TAKE

Going undefeated in league play for the first time in our school's history was one of the many goals reached by this year's varsity water polo team. To accomplish this the Braves had to beat Cabrillo twice giving Lompoc the right to compete in the CIF playoffs where they advanced to the quarter-finals. Leading the team this year were seniors Tom Hicks and Mike Kowalik, team co-captains, who were named to all-league first team along with goalie Bruce Walton and junior letterman Tom Denton.

GALS SERVE

TIME FOR BEST

The girls' athletic program netted another sport in '76 as the first edition of the Lompoc High School girls volleyball hit the courts. The eleven members of the novice varsity squad went 4 and 8 against schools such as Santa Ynez, who have had a volleyball program for the past three seasons. J.V., who went 8 and 4, made things look promising for the upcoming varsity team.

Donna Grossi and Shelly Hamer served as the J.V. co-captains, while Kelly McCandless and Sue Imano efficiently formed the leadership for the diligent varsity squad.

As the season ended, Kelly McCandless was named to all-league second team. Cindy Tykeson also received due credit by way of all-league honorable mention as a spiker.

UP & DOWN

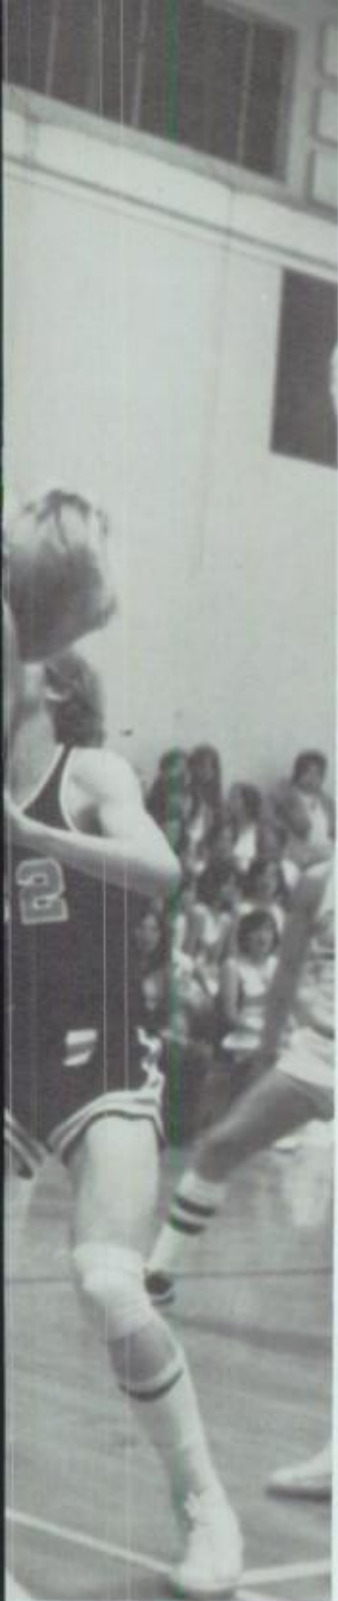

Inconsistency seemed to plague this year's varsity basketball team. Playing their usually rugged pre-league schedule, the Braves at times appeared to have put it all together with victories over such 4-A powers as Dos Pueblos, San Marcos twice, and a second place finish in the Optimist Tournament. After two disappointing losses to Newbury Park and the Alumni, Lompoc regrouped to defeat San Luis in the start of league play, which was followed by the ups and downs that worked against them all year. The highlight of the year was the six overtime, 92-91 victory over Righetti.

GO GYM DANDY

This year's junior varsity and frosh teams improved vastly as the season progressed. The junior varsity had some outstanding talent and showed quite a bit of promise for their future varsity years. The freshmen were involved in many close games which should give them good experience. The junior varsity ended their season with a 4-16 record, while the freshmen had a respectable 8-11 season record.

HOPPITY

"Go for it, ladies!" yell the coaches as the ragged bunch of dribblers run around the gym as fast as they can. "C'mon, you've only got 60 more to go!"

After a disappointing first season, the girls' basketball team had nowhere to go but up. In preparation for the tough climb, they ran . . . ran . . . and ran. They did fingertip push-ups, gobs of sit-ups, and other endurance-building exercises.

All the hard work finally paid off for the junior varsity during pre-season when they beat Dos Pueblos. In league action, the varsity team won their first ever by narrowly defeating San Luis Obispo, 38-33.

MAJESTY

The long hours of sweat and hard work paid off for the varsity wrestling team this year. Although they lost to San Luis Obispo in their first league match, which was the first time they've ever been beaten by San Luis, they didn't let their spirits down. The team came back to win the league title, which was also the first time that varsity wrestling has ever held the title by itself. Out of nine wrestlers, sent to the CIF prelims, Steve Miliate, Tony Rider, Mike Rivera, Dennis Katsuda and Leonard Huyck made it to the CIF finals.

A diligent effort on the part of all of the members of the junior varsity and freshman wrestling teams resulted in valuable experience gained by both squads. The freshman team came through with a season record of 5-5, while the junior varsity, improving a little from last year, ended up with a 9-4 record for the season. Both teams showed promise for future seasons as they strove toward a varsity position.

LOVING THE

"A good year is 50% and we came very close to this," commented Mrs. Porr on this year's girls tennis record. This year's team was inexperienced; out of 28 girls, only 5 had ever played before. "I feel our record is super," said Porr.

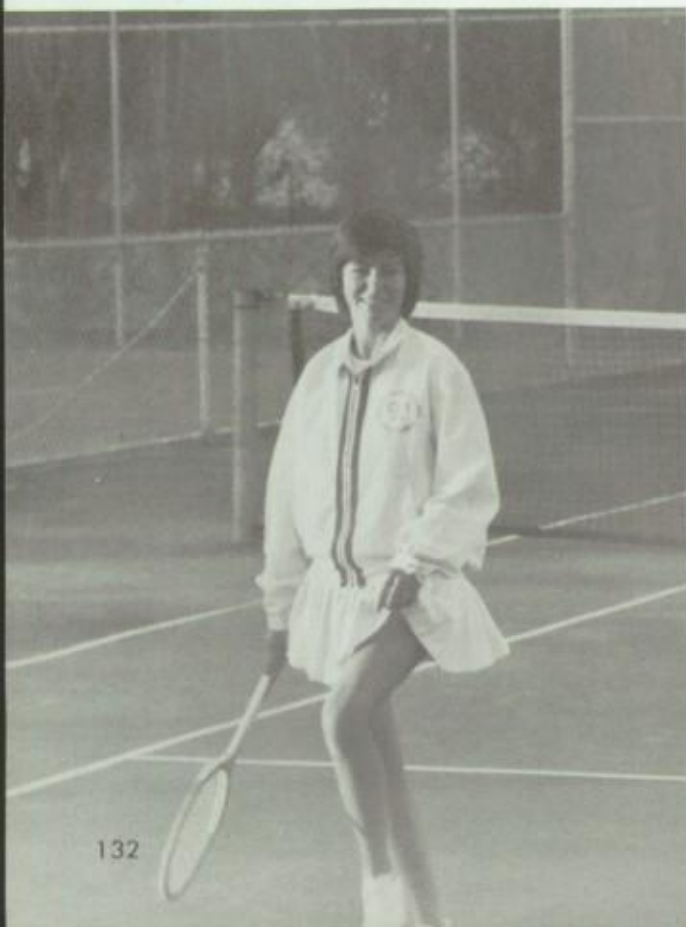

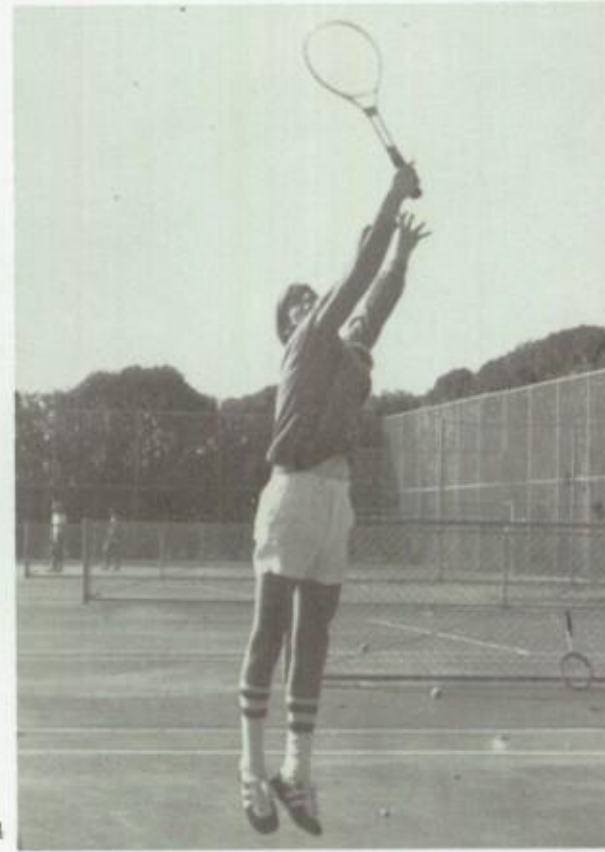

They served the school well, with their gut strength, courting disaster in the alleys. Many returned backhanded comments with their forehanded approach. The boys tennis team ended up on the bright side of the racket, netting love from their fans.

MAKING A SPLASH

Jumping off to a good start this year, the boys varsity swim team took a first place at the Cabrillo relays. The Braves then proceeded to beat Santa Barbara 86-84 for the first time in our history. With several returning lettermen this year led by senior Tom Hicks, the Braves seem to be headed for a league championship.

Training for endurance, always striving for perfection, the girls swim team and diving team worked hard all season. As a team bonded by common goals and interests, these girls quickly attained the unity that inevitably leads to success.

TRACKERS

Twenty different events pulling for a single goal make the track team a unique group. Its members strived for personal as well as team victories in their meets.

Daily workouts and individual sacrifice, together with a team effort, gave the '76 track team a strong outlook. They returned from a 1-17 record for '75, to win their first tri-meet against Morro Bay and St. Joseph for a good start on the season.

Taking to the streets was one way the girl's track team solved the rainy weather and soggy track problem. Cross-country jaunts with stops at the post office to mail Mrs. Stensland's letters weren't uncommon. The girls efforts were rewarded with excellent times, even at the first practice meet of the season against Santa Ynez and Cabrillo. There were 30 members.

3 'HUH NOW,

To recognize the bicentennial year the seventy-six baseball Braves started off with new red, white and blue uniforms. With seven returning lettermen the Braves were one of the leading contenders in the Northern league. Coming from 15-9-1 record last year the Braves defeated Rowland of L.A. to avenge themselves from the year before. But with many rookies, the Braves worked hard to overcome their weaknesses.

AN EQUAL

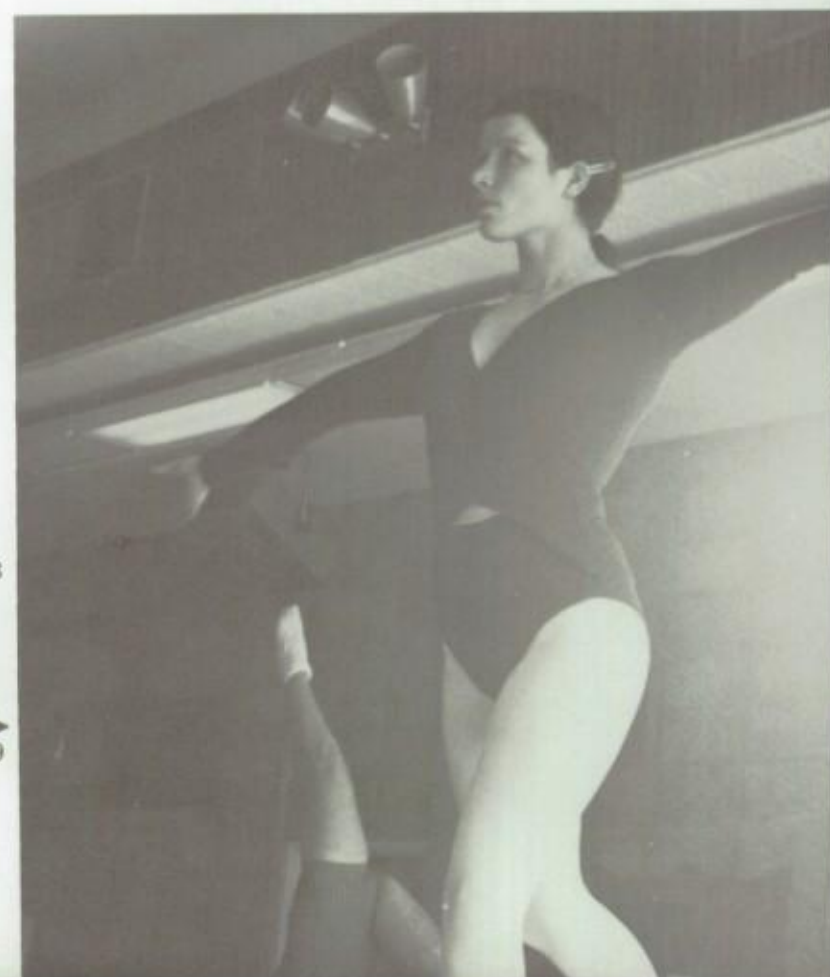

The Gymnastics team is ready to roll, anticipating another fantastic season after representing the Northern league in CIF for 1975. With seven returning members and nine newcomers they could easily make the number one spot again. FACTS: 6-0 in Northern league in 1975; Coaches, Pat Grisct and Tom Alexander.

A large turnout for the girls soft-ball team this year made it possible to pick only the most impressive of the bunch. With this exceptional group, they're really getting into the swing of things, preparing for another triumphant season. FACTS: Coaches, Gail Porr and Dave Benchoff; won Northern league in 1975 and then went to CIF.

GOLF GOES

This year's golf team was on the ball, always showing a lot of drive. Trying never to get teed off, they were often in the hole. The addition of a new coach, Mr. Ellison, kept them swinging. Going co-ed, this year's golf team included Ritter Chism. She helped to keep the team up to par. Every afternoon they bogeyed out to the Country Club to hit birdies, improve their skills and iron out the rough spots, to keep from being carted off the course.

The Land of the Free and the Home of the Braves is more than celebration, tradition and the bicentennial; it is freedom of choice as well as freedom of action.

Being involved in many activities helps us to discover ourselves and understand others. When we make discoveries and put them to good use, we experience success.

We are free to share with other people. At the Home of the Braves many people do, and the product is called friendship.

School was a place where friendships were made and broken. Daily, buddies walked to class with each other and shared laughs. During lunch, they ate and did their homework together. When one chum needed answers, the other did what he or she could to help out. But being friends wasn't always fun and games. Even the best of pals had disagreements. Despite these differences of opinion, a buddy could always count on his sidekick to back him up at rough times.

Andy Nguyen and Janice Binning help each other out. 8. "I don't know him," claims Patti Grossini of Bobby Weatherly.

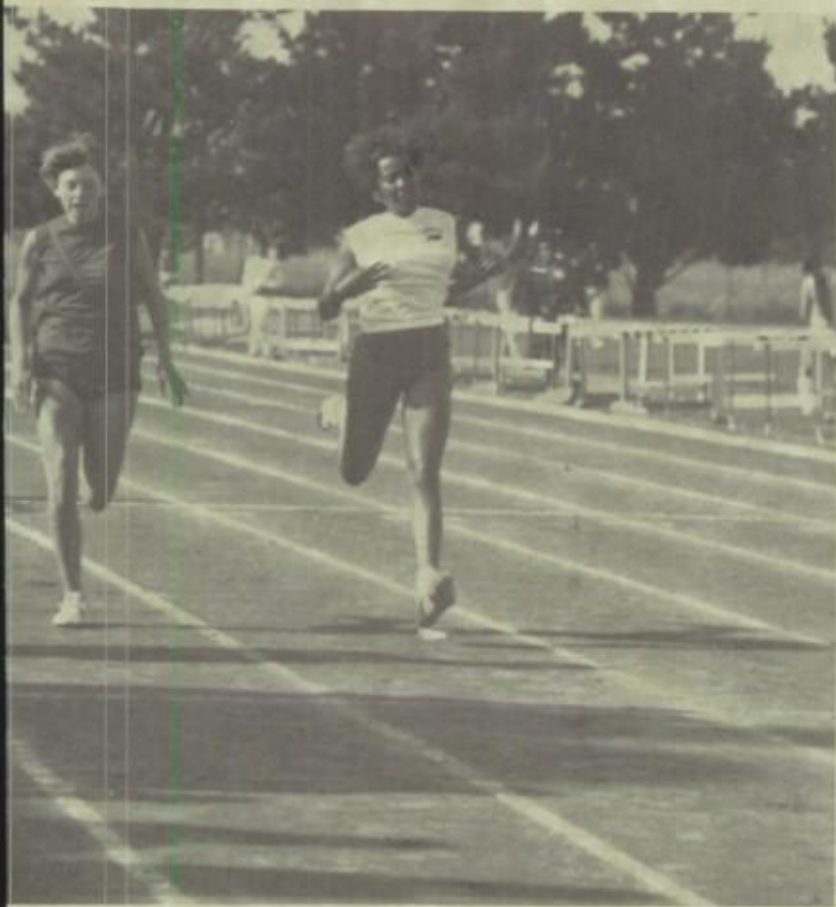

Students learned new things about themselves all the time, such as, they were smart enough to score high on the SAT test or lucky enough to win a scholarship. They discovered they had what it takes to reach their goals whether in sports, school work or job responsibilities.

Just as the discovery of these facts helped students to grow, the discovery of new places helped the U.S. grow. The founding of Pt. Conception and the building of the lighthouse made it safe for ships traveling through the area.

The chief means of binding an individual to reality are those activities that fill everyday life. Through these activities, we develop personality and we realize differences between ourselves and others, and we learn to cope with them. Through involvement you learn to understand yourself.

Heidi -

Somebody already signed on my favorite page, Friendship, so I guess I'll sign this one, Success. That is what I hope for us next year. Success in Smoke Signal, Success in our hard classes, Success in tennis and success with just living from day to day. It is gonna be scary to be seniors, now we will have to be the leaders of the bunch. I think though, with a little luck and alot of work we can make it.

This junior year has been one of learning alot for us. It seems to have been a hard year too, but I think that thru all the learning and disappointments we have come out closer than before. I've really enjoyed having you be my friend through another year. You were always around when I needed somebody to talk to. You were there to share my happinesses with and also there to share my sad times with. I'm really lucky having a friend like you.

So I guess that this is about it for this year. Let's see these seniors to the bitter end again and then be ready for our own senior year.

Have a great summer, and think of lots of things to do when we are Super Seniors of 77.

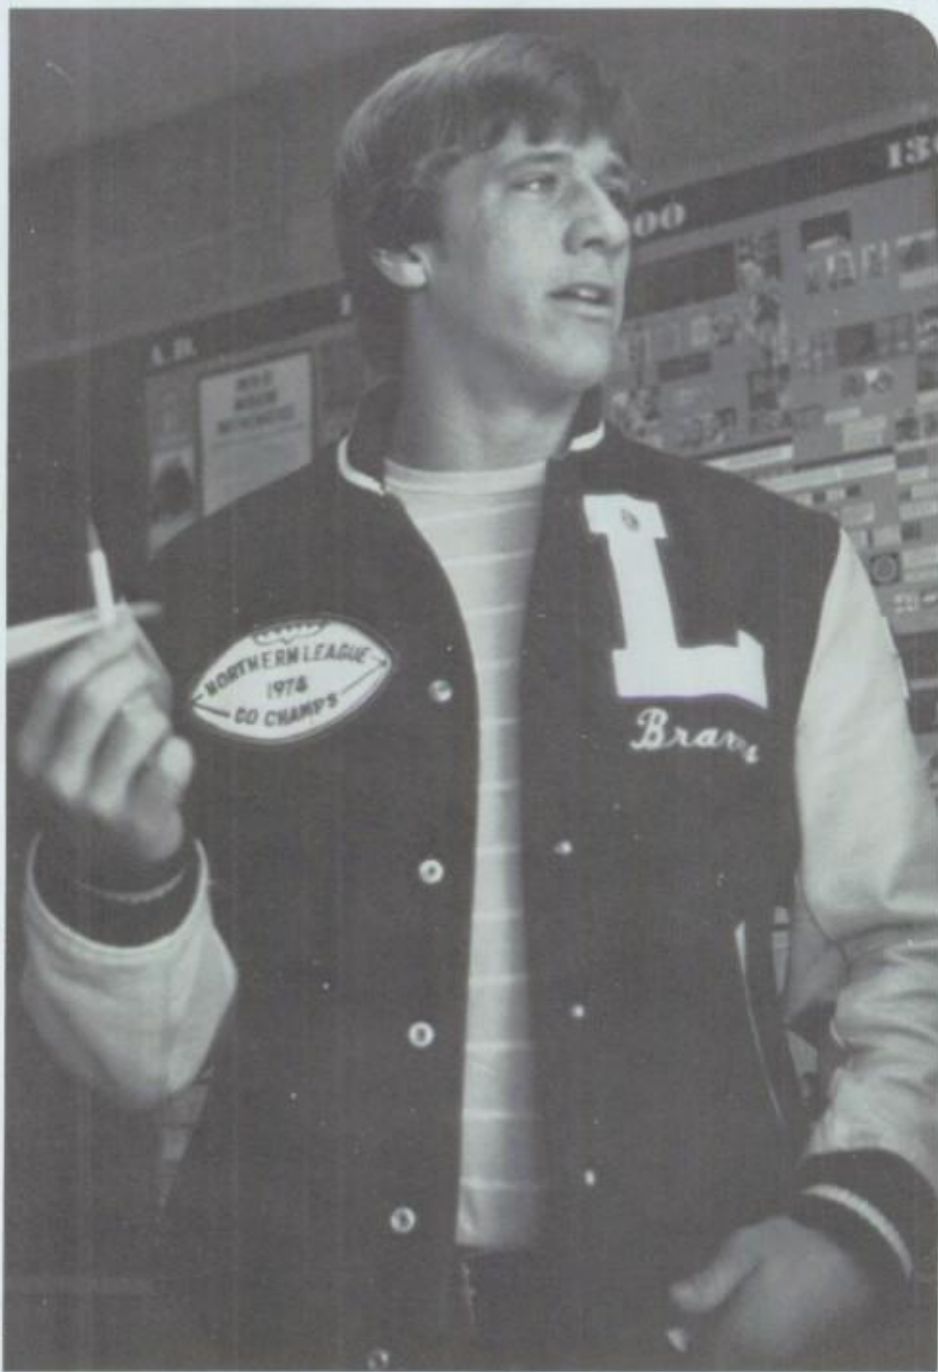

Love,
Jan

Straight "A's", winning a game, or making a lot of money, these are things we usually classify as success. But are these things really that important? Let's remember the things that last after the money is spent, and all the glory of the game is over. Making a friend, gaining trust, seeing the smile on the face of someone you made happy, or achieving the goals you have set for yourself, as our forefathers succeeded in achieving their goal, the day they signed the Declaration of Independence. The continued success of this nation now depends on us.

Monkeys

at heart, many spent a lot of their time doing what came naturally. During their last year at Lompoc High, 76ers perfected fine skills of goofing off for more use in the future.

'College'

a word that strikes fear in the heart of many seniors. Where to go, what to study and how much money rank high on the lists of questions asked by '76ers at Hancock's college fair.

What to do?

Mary Worsnup's responsible and religious personality aided her in 4 years of high school. Mary held several offices of Health Careers and was president of CSF along with being a life member. She also was active in Forensics, Ustani and the La Purisima staff. Mary was recognized for her accomplishments when she was chosen Jr. escort, DAR Good Citizen and received the B of A Plaque for Liberal Arts.

Brad Burbridge's friendly personality and good looks kept him anything but bored during his 4 years of high school. An active member of the bands every year, Brad was also a football letterman and in basketball and track. He also found time for La Purisima staff, Quill and Scroll, and the Lettermen's club. Brad led his class academically by being a CSF life member and by being chosen a Jr. escort.

Robby Coe's leadership ability was well known. A member of student government for 4 years, Robby was class rep. in his frosh and soph years, vice-president as a junior and president in his senior year. Rob proved his athletic ability by being a football and baseball letterman. He found time to be on the yearbook staff, a CSF life member, in Quill and Scroll and Lettermen club and was Boys State rep.

Angie Barnacastle was a leader in the "cheeriest" sense of the word. A cheerleader for 4 years, Angie was also active in gymnastics, CSF as a life member and AFS vice-president. Always willing to help, she was on the Sr. Tea, prom and Homecoming committees. A knack for journalism placed her on the yearbook staff and in Quill and Scroll. Angie's outgoing personality made her a Hom. princess.

*Love,
Susan*

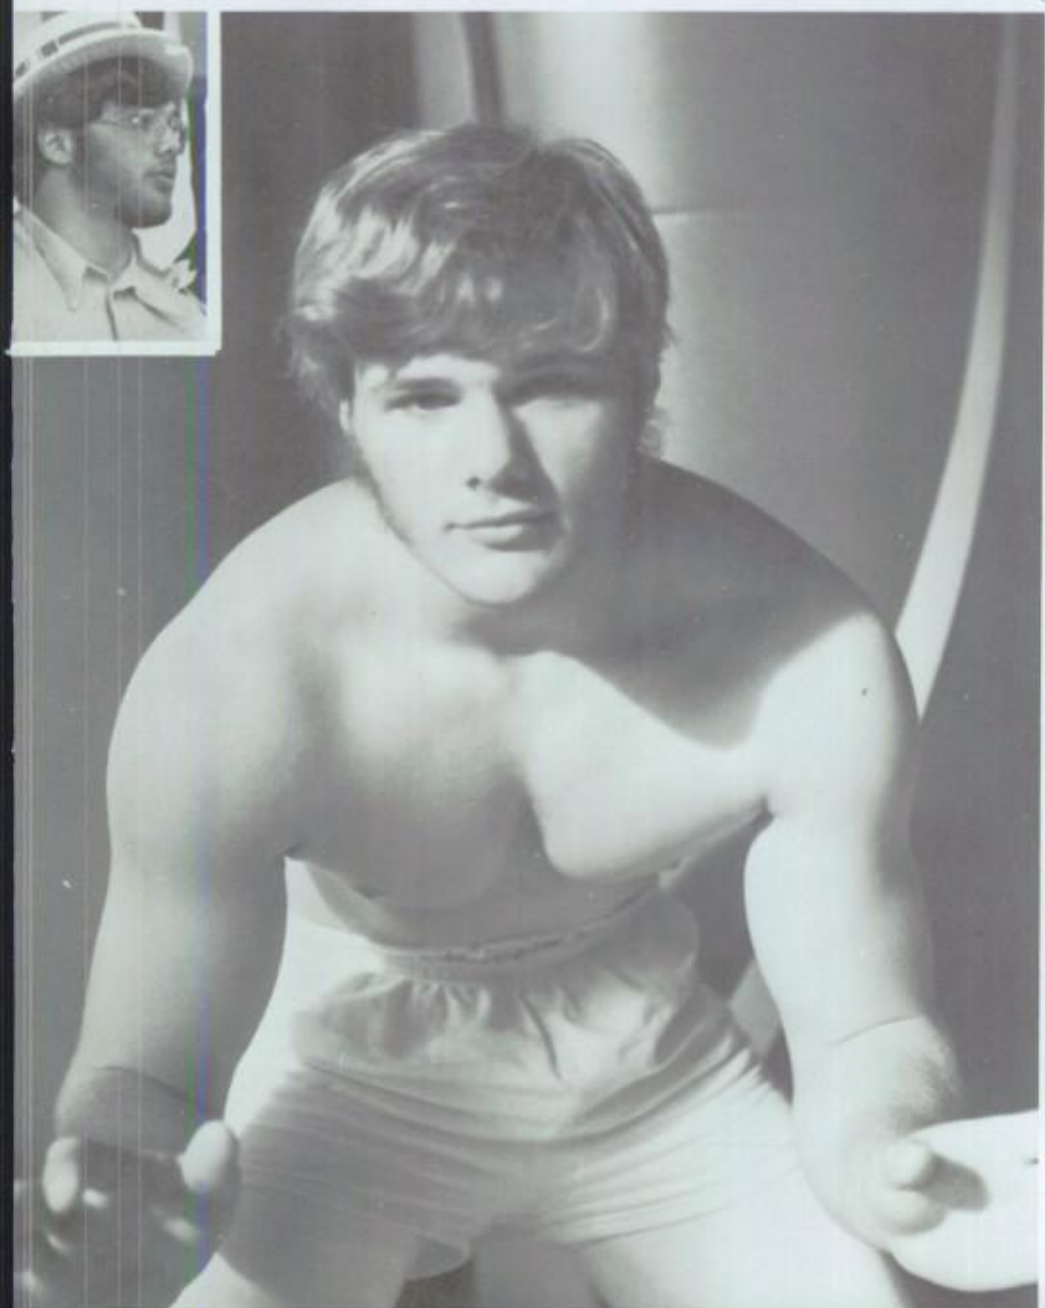

Tim Binning

George Polly

Masha Calloway

Susan Cunningham used a smile and personality to become a songleader. She excelled in English, being on the Smoke Signal and Ustani staffs and a member of Quill and Scroll. Sue took first place in the Tri-County news writeoffs. As a Thespian, she was involved in many plays. Susan was a junior class rep. and in CSF.

Tim Binning, responsible and kind, was chosen as this year's SB president. Being on the Prin. List earned him the honor of Jr. Escort and a member of CSF. Tim participated in basketball, baseball, and in football he was selected to the first team all-league as a senior. He was also a member of the Lettermen's club for two years.

Masha Calloway, was in track, tennis and basketball, and involved in many other activities, too. She was sec. and parl. as a junior, and Lettergirls pres. as a senior. A member of CSF, Quill and Scroll, the yearbook staff, and SB v.-pres., Masha found time to study as she was a national merit semi-finalist and on the Prin. List.

George Polly - casual and witty, describes him. Playing football four years, three at varsity level, and being selected all-league as a junior, gained him respect and admiration of his fellow classmates. He was on track, baseball, and basketball. George was lettermen club pres., SB treasurer, a member of CSF, and on Prin. List.

Steve Miliate, strong, determined, mannered, he possessed qualities which enabled him to become a Pacesetter. He showed his leadership in student government as a class rep. for three years. He was captain two of his four years as a wrestler. Playing football three years, he was named co-captain his senior year.

Steve Miliate

Tom Hicks' athletic ability in the water ranked him high in honors and in campus prestige. He lettered in swimming and waterpolo all four years, was on the All-League swim team, and was CIF champ in the 50 freestyle. Tom was in AFS, choir, Lettermen's club, comm. of act., on the principal's list and a CSF life member.

Debbie Gilmore possesses certain qualities of being a successful leader, and had an inner strength that was sought after. As a leader she was class president for three years, and this year's convention chm., Debbie was also in choir, ran track, and stayed on the honor roll.

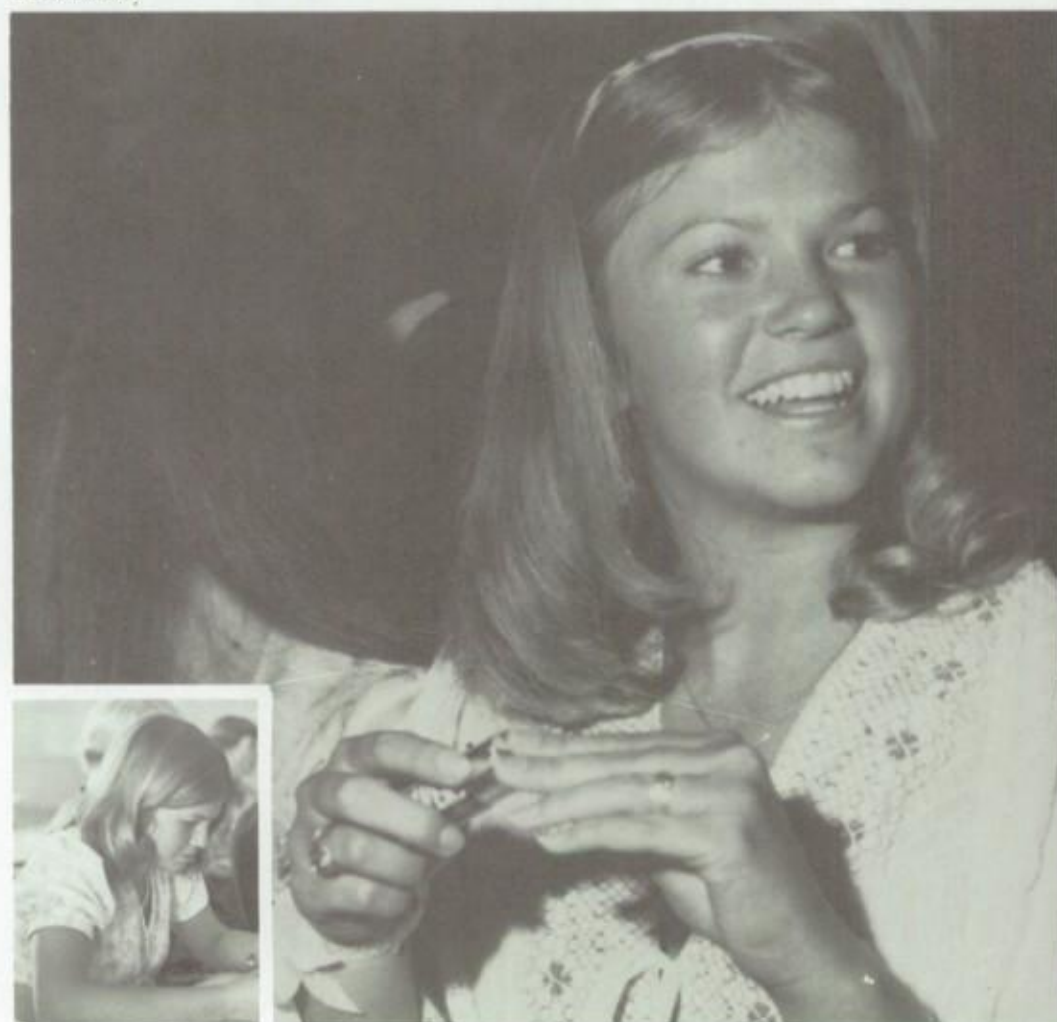

George Renfroe's outgoing personality and openness to people made his presence welcomed by people. In sports George lettered in baseball, and was in basketball and football. He was on Smoke Signal, commissioner of assemblies, Quill and Scroll president, CSF life mem., and honor roll.

Carmen Lietz contained a mixture of a warm sense of understanding people and a true enjoyment for promoting spirit. From being on drill team to a songleader, she worked hard to support the athletes. Carmen was on the yearbook staff, Sr. Tea and Homecoming cmtes., and Quill and Scroll. She was on prin. list and CSF life mem.

Mike Kowalik had a certain confidence about him that whatever he applied himself to was successful. Lettering in swimming and waterpolo, Mike also was MVP and on All-league first team. Lettermen's club, AFS, Homecoming cmte., and waterpolo co-capt., were his interests, which didn't alter his being on the prin. list and CSF.

Climbing

high above every one to receive their prestigious awards, these various students put in many hard hours of work. The Boys' and Girls' State Reps. were picked on the basis of their scholastic ability and leadership. Bank of America plaques were given to four different people in four different subject areas. This year's DAR Good Citizen Award was given on the basis of reliability and leadership. The Elks Outstanding and Most Valuable Student Awards were given to five seniors this year. The Betty Crocker Homemaker Award was given for outstanding knowledge of the basic homemaking skills.

Leaders of their classes, this year's officers worked hard in directing class business. Interested kids, at the beginning of this year, tried their hand at government, this resulted in their better understanding of its operations. Despite goofy noontime meetings, a lot of good things were accomplished.

Sitting

in class meetings where decisions were made peacefully seemed to be a job for Superman. But the class sponsors handled it very well. They also undertook the task of chaperoning dances without much complaint. To Mr. Hill, the most important thing to wear to a dance is cotton in your ears! Sponsors were there to give the final "OK" or point out the pros and cons of an idea being discussed.

Tough and energetic, underclassmen went to great lengths to do well in their respective sports. They went through long hours of practice for little recognition. They even withstood the odors of stinky socks and sweaty t-shirts and underarms in order to be studly. Goofing off is just a part-time job for some people. Messing around, letting off steam or whatever you call it, it boils down to being yourself.

Action

never ceased as junior Braves got into the swing of raising money for clubs. Snowcone, bake, and popcorn sales brought cash and good times to the many clubs and their members.

Unwimps

got into better shape and took out their anxieties by beating tennis balls, knocking heads and slapping water about. Many underclassmen participated in athletics because they enjoyed competition. Some wanted to work off flab or preferred it to regular P.E.; others needed an extra something to do or a sly way to check out some of the foxy guys and girls on the opponent's turf.

Goals

of the administrators this year were to better the school for the students. They enforced a strict tardy and cut policy which benefited the classroom situation. Out of school relations were common. Mr. Humble and Mr. Prucha often played handball with students.

A CHANGE OF SCENE!

"Co-ed P.E. classes! What's this school coming to? . . . Do you think I'll be able to get into one of them next quarter?!"

Several co-ed classes were offered for the first time, and students were able to pick classes and teachers again. As a result of the new tardy policies, many of last year's 'loafers' were seen rushing toward the gym instead of wandering in late.

THE KIDS WHO DO IT

Young kids who would steal their dad's nails to build something was the beginning of many skilled draftsmen. Students who became involved in Industrial Arts had a range from Photography to Auto Mechanics. With the experienced faculty, students learned trades that may help in life.

IT ALL HAS TO ADD UP

"The book says it is supposed to work and it's not figuring out. Why can't I get it to work out, I'm subtracting the temperature from the density. It says right here in red, divide the cosine by pi and add the tangent. It's impossible; it can't be done. I know, let's get Miky, he can do anything." Similar feelings and frustrations were felt by students who were involved in math and science classes.

LANGUAGE LEARNERS

"English is so grammatically complicated, that I wish I could take Spanish instead." "Only 345 more vocabulary words to go, you've gotta be kidding!" "I loved creative writing, because it gave me a chance to write the way I wanted to." "I can barely wait to get out of Communications lab so I can go to take some fun classes." Many students not only found that there were some interesting English courses offered, but also discovered they learned something by putting a little of themselves into the class.

MASTERS OF ARTS

Taking an idea and transforming it into a fantastic photo, a painted picture, a harmony of notes or acted parts in a play were results of the efforts of talented students in Fine Arts. This year many took a variety of art, music, and drama classes and thus developed their creative talents into products. Some of these products were sold at the pottery sale, won a photo contest, went to a music festival, produced a play, or, most of all, became a piece of art-work to the maker and creator of them.

I hope that we'll still be smiling next year - we'll have all those "rookies" to work with! You were a good tennis team "machine" (even though you hated it). Hit lots of "woodies" this summer (but don't hit "netties"). Good luck this summer in everything -

David Elam

NOTHING is ever truly finished. Time moves constantly forward and people go, but their spirits and contributions remain.

The year of America's bicentennial, which we spent together, will turn into 1977 and the second century will become the third, but the memories stay with us. The celebration continues. Each day is one to be lived to the full, a day to celebrate, in the Land of the Free, Home of the Braves.

1. Hooded sweatshirts just wouldn't be the same. 2. Drill teamers hope their suspenders don't let go. 3. Bill Vance resorts to whistling after using his confetti. 4. Larry Marshall is short on pants but not on sympathy. 5. Smoke Signal gets off a good one. 6. '77 has spirit and good taste. 7. No agony of defeat for Gary McComb today. 8. Spooks Stanley McAdams, John Patton and Diane Frelot say "boooo" to you.

Combining the events of our nation's bicentennial with the everyday lives of the students of Lompoc high was our main objective in choosing our theme, "Land of the Free, Home of the Braves." Concerning the bicentennial, we chose to use it (but not overuse it) because it will happen only once in our lifetime.

We express our sincerest thanks to Mr. Robert Paisola, Mr. Dave Herber and the faculty; to Mr. Jay Ratcliff; and a special thanks to Mr. Vance Newcomb and the Lompoc Historical Society for their help in supplying the bicentennial pictures.

It's been a lot of fun this year in S.S. I know you'll have a really good paper next year. Best of luck always.

Love,
Karin

Heidi,

Your fame as a super-typist is a well-known legend.
Even my night school typing teacher (He's a teacher up at Cabrillo) brags about your speed and proficiency. I'm still on 38 words a minute.

Hope your senior year is the best of your high school years.

Do well on the S.S.
next year, we have a reputation to uphold, you know.

I wish you a terrific future and a good summer.

Love,
Cheryl Herigstad

Heidi -

Smoke Signal was fantastic this year & next year will be even better. I'm glad I got to know you better this year & I'll know you
even better next year!
Take care & I'll probably see you this summer. Take care - Diane Sear

- Heidi - (Hedy)

You know it's hard for a Senior to sign year-books because he won't be here next year or at least I won't be here as much. I won't forget you because you are unique.
(I won't even forget your thumb)

May you make your goal, (Stanford)
I know you will.
Lots of Love,
Tom Hicks

How are your Lizard Buns?

- Heidi -

It's hard to write to a tennis star
But I suppose I'll give it my best shot. I hope you'll have a successful senior year and wish you luck with your tennis.

Frank Davis

- Heidi -

I sure liked being in German with you the past 3 years, now I guess we won't be in German anymore, but maybe I'll have you in one of my other Classes next year. I hope you have a good summer of hard work and practice, without a moment's rest. But I guess that's part of being the best on the Tennis Team. Well, I guess I'll see you around, so good luck always.

Keith

Dear Heidi;

To know you is to love you!
You are sweet, pretty, intelligent, and talented, so, no wonder I think so much of you.

We've had a good Smoke Signal year - can we have a better one? We'll see. You will have to take a bigger responsibility for SS next year and help make things happen.

I really love you, Heidi!
Have a good summer! We'll both enjoy next year, I'm sure.

- Jim Lowe

- Heidi -

It sure has been interesting in German, to say the least.
Certain people never let us have a dull moment, didn't they?!! Heidi, you have everything in the whole world going for you, so reach high, and get all you can!

You did a great job in tennis, I hope I'll hear even better news next year!

Love,

Naomi
Oxum

Heidi,

I'm so glad we got to be Junior Veters and Escorts. It's going to be so much fun that it's probably worth the cost of making the dress. Smoke Signal was a blast because Mr. Lowe was such a nut! You've added so much to the paper and always added a certain touch. I hope we get in the same math class next year and hopefully more. We haven't been too close this year as we have been the last 2 years but I'm sure glad we're still friends! Stay sweet & cute !!!

LUV always,
Susan Wong!

77.

Heidi - well I sure hope you had as much fun on S.S. as I did on La Purissima. Congratulations on being chosen Junior Vets or Escorts - that sure sounds like a great experience. It looks like next year is the million-dollar turn for editors huh? I'm sure Davis will do a great job. I'm really looking forward to it and sure care and have a great senior year! Love, Scott

(fib)

- Heidi -

Do a good job on Smoke Signal next year for me okay? I'm sure it will be better next year right? Congratulations on making it through Herman IV, it wasn't easy I know. I hope to see you one of these days on the Virginia Slims tour. Good luck next year as a big bad senior!

10:00 Friday Love.

It was really neat having you in one of my classes and I hope that we will have
